Assignments for Term Paper Projects

These instructions apply to students doing a project rather than the second batch of reflections and the final. The final project is worth 50% of your final grade. You may submit this work via email (bmehan@ucsd.edu) or in class. Do not be late!

1. Due TUESDAY May 11:

    (a)   Topic: Describe the topic of your project in a paragraph up to 1 page. Identify the research question you are investigating as part of this description. Please ensure that the names of all authors are included.

    (b)   Form of Project: Tell us if you prefer to write a paper or present to the class (on June 8th). We cannot guarantee that we can satisfy all requests to make an oral presentation; if there are too many requests to make oral presentations, we may have to make some of those into written papers.

    (c) Research Methods: Describe the research methods that you will be using in your project. Describe at least one article assigned in class that uses this method. If you plan to observe in schools or other places, be sure you have permission. If you plan to interview people, I MUST approve your interview questions.

2. Due TUESDAY May 18: Annotated Bibliography-Course material and outside sources: Identify at least 3 sources from within the course and 3 from outside the course that you are consulting for your project; identify the author, title, publication information for each source; describe each work in a paragraph or so; explain how each source relates to your project.

3. Due TUESDAY May 25. Outline: Provide an outline of your paper or presentation. Indicate where the material described in Topic #1c and Topic #2 fits into your presentation or paper.

Final paper is due June 8th. Presentations will take place on June 8th in CH 113. Plan on 15 minutes for each presentation.

All members of the class should plan to attend.
